Good of Luck
Dorothy Nelson
1980

Early scientists and astrologers, studying the heavens, gave to us mystical and legendary figures typifying Courage, Ambition, Adventure, and Honor. Our spirit is akin to that of theirs. We, the January class of 1938, hope that an ever progressive spirit of trail-making to higher achievements, will be our goal. Within this book are true and treasured accounts of our life during our brief stay. May our memories of Fenger be as firmly fixed in our hearts as the figures among the stars.

4 A CLASS HISTOROSCOPE

The unfathomable mystery of the night, the Milky Way, the path of the moon across the water, the breeze rustling in the tree tops, enthralled me and as I lay back, head cushioned on my arms, physical realities dropped away—and Jupiter, King of the Gods, stood before me.

"King Jupiter," I addressed him, "how little time means to those stars? Hundreds of years go by and their change is barely perceptible; but as for me, I will live, achieve or fail, die, and be forgotten in a very short time. How inconsequential we humans really are! Tell me, what does the future hold for me?"

Gravely he answered as he, too, gazed up into the heavens, "Stars guide your destiny. Your future and your friends' futures are preordained.

"Picture the sky on a crisp January evening, Capricorn, the goat, is then the controlling planet. All who are born under this sign are said to be fortunate; for knowledge, wealth, and happiness are to be theirs.

Their ambition often brings them trouble, and overwork makes them morose. Sometimes these people are too liberal, and then again not liberal enough. Susan Cullip, treasurer of the Fenger News; Carl Clauter, member of the swimming team; Muriel Olsen and Marcella Pryzbrowski, both Phorex members, come under this sign.

Under Aquarius, sign of the waterbearer, Howard Peterson, Fenger's Mayor, was born. In the same month are Alice Mae Duncan, literary editor of the Courier, Bernice Loughborough and Phyllis Hansen, letter girls. People born in this month are endowed with great but usually unused powers; they are quick to learn, and achieve with such ease that often they become lazy.

"Pisces, the fish, guides the life of those born in March. Helpful and honest by nature, these people are easily fooled by dishonest friends and wear themselves out helping people that do not need help. Glenn Lindskog, editor of the Courier, Edna Campbell, prominent in the Tri-Hi-Y, and Jean Robertson, valuable member of the band, have March birthdays.

"Spirit, energy, and pluck are the great gifts endowed to those who claim April as their birth month. Possessed of great spirit and energy, these persons are often victors over great odds. They have a strong sense of regularity, harmonious life, and colors. Confidence in their own powers, and impatience often brings them disappointment. This could be avoided by listening to others and trying to be patient. Under Aries comes our National Honor president, Warren Wilner; Shirley Aulwurm, 4A treasurer; Bodell Christenson, and Robert Radkey.

Taurus, the Bull, controls the life of Al Luego, Fenger's star football player and captain of this year's team. Persons born under this star exhaust themselves mentally and physically trying to work for everyone they know. John Le Noble and Lorrane Linnert, were also born under the sign of Taurus.

In June, Gemini, the Twins, is the guiding star. People born under Gemini often have a dual character, flippant, yet reserved, with a wide variation of ideas and desires. They seek solitude and silence, because too many outside distractions often make them unhappy. Howard Schmidt, Battalion commander of the R.O.T.C. has a June birthday as does Shirley Shallcross, "sax" player, Richard Hoose, stage crew, also Raymond Hofstra, baseball player, and Roy Carlson, football star.

July, the month of Cancer the Crab, rules Millicent Worthy, Anne Saytor, Edith Borchardt and Gwen Buckles. Joy and contentment is not one of the desires of this group, but strength of purpose and foresight brings them to their goal. 'Tis said they have a love to be in the public eye and will go great lengths to get attention, often to their own disadvantage.

Ed Howes, prominent football player and 4A class president, Richard Vollmar, and Dorothy Estabrook co-editor of the Courier were born in the month of August. Leo, the Lion, is the sign, and those who are born under it are forceful, brave, and possess keen insight. They are quick tempered and should be controlled by silent moments alone. The power to achieve is theirs if they keep their ambitions and desires along a refined path.

Virgo, the virgin, controls September births. These people are precise and exacting, of a fine social and intellectual behavior. All things are considered on the practical side of life and show little consideration for wishing, dreaming, or imagining. Eugene Takach, Grace Stark, and Jeanette Dyke are born in September.

Filled with hope, desire and vigor, those born in October are controlled by Libra, the Scales. They are liberal, but sometimes discontented and anxiously waiting for the desired to happen. Jean Turnbull, letter girl, Dorothy Rachlitz, clarinetist, and Helen Smith, of the Fenger News were all born in October.

Great will-power, and self-control mark those born in November, under Scorpio, the spider. Sometimes they exert strong will-power which makes some people consider them arrogant. They never quit a job though sometimes it takes a great deal of coaxing on the part of others to get them started. Under this sign are found Marjorie Grapenthan, cornetist, and Bruce Matheson, business manager of the Courier staff.

A Christmas birthday has Jack LaFountain of the Fenger News. Other birthdays in December include those of Lorraine Spuck, toe tap dancer in the Amateur Show, and Clifford Johnson, football player. These people have a great power of looking ahead, can make an unerring decision, and very openly state their views. Because of these faculties people often distrust them, while others grasp the confidences given them."

"Ah? But King Jupiter, you have shown me only the past, and I asked for the future. All my friends and fellow school mates have passed before me and from the great signs I glean much information. But are these always correct, oh, mighty Jupiter?"

"Yes, the signs of the Zodiac are exact, and a person's future may usually be told by his past. By combining the past, my infinitesimal mortal, with the astrological table, you can always discern the future."

While I pondered upon the wisdom of that last remark, the sun peeked up over the eastern horizon and Jupiter, the stars, and the moon faded from sight. Reality of this world came to me and I aroused from the spell. Had I spoken with the immortals? Will all my friend's lives be guided by the Zodiac?

4B CLASS HISTORY

For February, the month in which we 4B's enter the final and crowning period of our high school careers, the sign in the zodiac is Pisces.

According to the stars, Pisces people have a particularly tenacious nature; thus they gain their ends and achieve their ambitions by sheer persistence, tact, and persuasion rather than by force.

People whose lives come under the sign of Pisces, are lovers of peace and harmony, and are receptive to the thoughts and ideas of others. Their tempers are quick and they are rather impatient, but they never bear malice against others.

Pisces people inherit great love of power and of public recognition, which assures them success if they do not allow themselves to be inactive but rather work their way through difficulties.

It is to our advantage if we make all plans and begin new activities on Monday, the most favorable day in the week.

White or silver, our lucky color, is symbolic of purity.

With favorable omens so propitious to the activities of a class attached to the month in which we begin our final semester, the June class of '38 can scarcely fail to succeed in whatever they undertake, and especially in the most important objective of all, leaving Fenger City better citizens because of the influence the school has had on our characters.

FOOTPRINTS

Small little feet
Have run here and there;
And tiny little footprints
Can be seen everywhere.
They're five-toed and dainty
And none can compare;
And never a shoe
Does any foot wear.

Now slower she walks,
For she's tired, I guess;
Her steps are closer
And her footprints are less.
Yes, there in a corner
She's lying asleep;
For, Topsy, our dog,
Has her hours to keep.
ELAINE M. GEORGE

WINTER EVENING

It's a cold clear winter evening
The stars are shining bright,
And Orion on the skyline
Watches o'er the moonless night.

The snow has covered everything,
Even fence and house and trees,
And o'er the fields comes blowing
A chilly winter breeze.

The bear that treads the icy snow
Looks up to this immortal friend
That has always shone up in the sky,
And will until the end.

There's a cabin in the forest,
The roof is covered white,
And a candle lights the window
As it shines out in the night.

Nothing is more beautiful,
As far as I may know,
Than a clear cold winter evening
With all things clothed in snow.
HAROLD MAGNUSEN, JR.

STORY-BOOKS

When I've no one with whom to play,
And it's a dark and dismal day,
Among my story-books I lay
To read the stories, sad or gay.

I like to read of girls and boys
Of their experiences and joys.
It's really loads of fun
After you have once begun.

Some say your best friend is your dog
Well, that is where I disagree.
Your best friend is a story-book;
At least it is with me.
RUTH ZIEGLER

AN IMAGINARY VISIT

The moon, a silver, radiant disk, shone in the heavens.
The night was wrapped in a cloak of mystery. Each object was transformed by magic into silver, and as I gazed upon these wonders, I was compelled by unknown force, to seek more beauty in the out-of-doors.

I crept from the house into a strange, unexplored land, where all familiar objects were replaced by objects of wealth and splendor, seen only in fairy castles.
Into the meadow I wandered, seated myself under a tree, and gazed about me with bewildered, dazzled eyes.
And, what I am going to tell you, is exactly what I saw.

Faint music I did hear. I was enchanted with its melodious tone. It was the fairy piper, known by mortals as "The Nightingale." Then what should come before my sight but teeny men and women, clad in blue and silver. Preceding them was a girl no larger than my thumb. Her skin was palest pink, her eyes lightest blue, her teeth white as pearls, her silver hair floating as does the air. At her side was the handsomest youth, of the same size, dressed, as are the princes in fairy tales.

Light was furnished by little elves with lanterns, who bobbed here and there, never staying in one place an instant. Instead of grass, the floor was of marble.
The toadstools became jeweled thrones.

Then began, the most graceful little dance I had ever witnessed, or ever will. The little folks danced so fast, that they appeared to be moonbeams.

When this was finished, a feast was laid out on a tiny table. The plates were silver, and on each was a butterfly's wing. Little golden goblets were filled with rarest wine of dewdrops.

When this repast was over, the fairy queen saw me.
In an instant the lantern carriers became fireflies, the marble floor turned into grass, the thrones became toadstools, and the fairies evaporated, all except the queen. She, turning toward me, began to sing a sweet lullaby.

When I awoke, I found myself in my snow-white bed, there transported by a fairy's wand.

You may laugh, and doubt, but I, and the fairies know it was not a dream.

BURNSIDE CLASSES

F.H.S. B.B.

"Hello, Fenger High! This is station B.B.S. broadcasting their reactions of the Courier assembly. These Burnside-ites expressed their views:

Romon Carrol, Margaret Grafinauer, Jinnie Wadiak, Albert Fejes, June Coughlin, Irvin Sloan, Andy Fogeg, Earl Wall, Edward Frabenda, and Roberta Koppelman admired the assembly because it helped the students to familiarize themselves with the activities, class rooms, and gymnasium at the main building.

Because Burnside is interested in sports, it is no wonder that James Frangella, Daniel Wall, William McGarvey, Raymond Christian, Charles Binganni, John Bolz, Arthur Siemen, John Earuso, and Mary Bertok's ambitions center on the sport field. Mr. Palmer will find many stars for his sophomore team, next fall, and Mr. Fotch will find many raring to enter swimming contests. Next fall many a future merman and mermaid will contest for Jr. and Sr. Life Saving Emblems also.

The drama club will also have some new recruits; among them will be Lorraine Lockwood, Raymond Trongeau, Olga Skocypec, Jean Mc Elvain, Randolph Robinson, Elizabeth Salanec, and James Gill.

This is station B.B.S. signing off. We'll be in all the various activities at the main building next fall—watch us; we believe in action."

A GLIMPSE AT FOOTBALL

The football players charged and dashed
To get a winning touchdown,
When all the time they knew 'twould be
A moment till they're pushed down.

The rooters in the grandstands
Jumped and yelled, "Oh boy,"
For their school team was winning
And they had right to joy.

But then there came a setback—
The other team just scored.
There was a lull in voices,
Cause the other team was lord.

BOB OLSON

THE FIRST SNOWFALL

As I awoke one morning,
The world seemed unusually light,
It seemed to give us the warning,
That it had snowed in the night.

I jumped out of bed in a hurry,
Raring to go out and play;
But I felt condemned by a jury,
For it was another school day.

Finally the last bell was ringing,
And after waiting all day,
I didn't feel much like singing,
For the snow in a puddle lay.

FRANCES NEWTON

DAY DREAMING

I turn my memory pages back

To the fun of summer days,

But then the teacher calls on me

And it leaves in sort of a haze.

After answering the question clearly

Which was an effort to find,

My ears seem to close, and "Presto" I am back again,

And once more school work is out of mind.

The teacher approaches while I am dreaming;

I am caught like an ant in a cup,

I try to explain why I'm not studying;

She says, "Maybe a penalty will fix the idea."

AN APPRECIATION

When Miss Fanny A. Hall, former mathematics teacher, retired at the close of last semester, we, the students and faculty of Fenger, lost a true friend and helper. Her untiring service was for many years enjoyed and appreciated at both the old and new buildings. Her contributions to the extra curricular activities of our school may be seen in the existence of the Mathematics Club, for it was she who first organized the club at Fenger. Miss Hall at present occupies her time doing philanthropic work and finds pleasure in traveling.

A STORMY SEA

Howling winds, crashing waves, blinding blades of lightning,
Out of the ebony blackness comes a ship, pitching, tossing
And then
A flash reveals a murderous ragged reef.
Shrill screams! a crash! a frantic S.O.S. sent by a nervous hand—
Long hours of silence—
Morning comes, golden ribbons of sunshine cut across rippling waters.
From a ship somewhere at sea comes a message
"Arrived too late, all hands lost."
A stormy sea had taken its toll and subsided into peacefulness.

RICHARD SORENSON

FOREST FIRE

Smoke-filled emptiness;
Space filled with ominous hisses.
A shot-like sound punctures the deadness.
Flames leap from limb to limb,
Four legged creatures scurry before this menace;
The moon is hidden in a flurry of wings.
An angry roar!
The grumbling flames are hastened by the heavy wind.
Faster, faster, more furious
Racing as if pursued by demons;
Then, peace reigns—
Peace, with destruction as its chief advisor.

PHYLLIS HOWELL

NOW

It seems to me like yesterday
That bushes, trees, and flowers were a bloom,
And glad to share their beauty every day;
But cold and shiv'ry winds have sent a gloom,
And only twisted raggedy leaves and stems,
Which once were green and colorful and gay,
Today have changed to brown and curled up ends,
All ready for rest till sunny May.

WINIFRED REIMER

THE HUNGER

A sleek silver flash,
A plane plumes by,
Hurtling like a thousand furies
Into the curling, swirling, swiftly rolling mist.
The lights, barely discernible,
Look friendly enough from here;
But yet, it fills my heart with a cold, clammy fear.
On like a meteor
Bent on destruction, it races.
Looming somewhere in the heavy vaporous fog
A peak of some majestic mountain,
Will check its flight.
Screeching—almost bursting—
The motors roar on through the night.

In a split second
Without a sound of warning,
A blazing flash!
A resounding crash!
A scraping, rasping, grating of steel
And torrents of flames—
Flames hungrily lick up the wreckage.

HENRY HOLDORSEN

Out of the window and across the way
I can watch the poplar branches sway.
Bright colored leaves, hanging as if by a hair
Seem to defy the whistling winds blowing past;
For the last leaves of summer are game to the last.
Well can one look at this scene and say,
I wish that October were here to stay.

GUS ILIKA

DISASTER

A shining, roaring plane is soaring.
The storm is blinding; the wind is lashing.
It sputters, pitches, tosses, lurches,
The doomed plane crashes with a deafening roar.
It's wrecked! the metal-twisted and torn,
The wings are from the cabin shorn,
And among the mangled bodies-Death, the sole survivor.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY—Students are elected for membership in the National Honor Society on the basis of their achievements in scholarship, character, leadership, and service. Scholarship is the primary requisite for admittance into the Society, and only those students who rank in the upper third of their class scholastically, are eligible for election.

Students whose names appear on the list of those scholastically eligible are voted upon by members of the faculty with whom they have come in contact during their school life on basis of scholarship, character leadership, and service.

May 15, 1937, in the Hill Auditorium, the induction ceremony was held. Principal Schacht gave a short history and the purpose of the society, after which he introduced the speaker, Principal Eustace Tubbs of Morgan Park High School. After the address, Mr. Schacht proceeded with the impressive induction ceremony.

Participants in the candle-lighting ceremony were Peter Vander Ploeg, Parker Jones, Karl Spannare, Robert Smitter, and Charles Higgins. Then Peter Vander Ploeg, retiring president, passed the torch to Warren Wilner, the present president. Miss Margaret Taylor undertook the sponsorship this year.

PHOREX—One of the highest honors Fenger can bestow on its students is membership in the Phorex, sponsored by Miss Smith.

To qualify for this club, a student must have an E or above in major subjects and not less than a G in minors.

Upon graduation those who have been members of this society for seven semesters are given new pins which become their cherished possession.

Those who will receive Phorex pins this semester for their permanent possession are Mildred Borger, Bodell Christiansen, Alice Mae Duncan, Phyllis Hansen, Jewell Keesen, Florence Mulka, Lucille Napoli, Betty Peach, Dorothy Rachlitz, Mary Taminga, and Jean Turnbull.

FENGER NEWS—

Time: Any hour after 4:30 any Tuesday.

Place: 130—The News Room.

Scene: About forty people huddled over pages, typewriters, desks, papers, etc.

This setting may sound unreal to one uninitiated in the mysteries of our school newspaper's production; but to the Fenger News Staff, headed this semester by Helen Smith, Jack La Fountain, and Virginia Brehm, this scene is a familiar and ever-challenging reality. Indeed, to the three time-hardened editors, John Le Noble, business manager, and page editors, Lorraine Linnert, Evangeline Samuels, Pearl Lupien, Evelyn Mathieson, Jeanne Turnbull, and Vernon Hupp, fifty-three is frequently the hour of departure.

However, the staff may feel that this semester's effort has not been wasted, for the News this year has shown improvement, especially in the photographic field. The graphic department, comprised of George Olson and Delbert Ziegler, deserve to be especially commended for their work in picture taking. Again this semester the subscription and pledge system of circulation was used, as it proved so popular with the students in its initial semester. Attractive pins were awarded to the people who purchased Fenger's newspaper each week, and ice-cream socials were awarded to the division rooms in which every member bought every issue of the Fenger News.

Great progress was gained by following the suggestions and employing the idea gathered at the Illinois State convention, held as usual on November 5 and 6 at the University of Illinois. Several staff-members attended and tried to bring back to the other members ideas which would be of benefit to the Fenger News. This was likewise the aim of the delegates attending the N.S.P.A. convention at Des Moines, December 3, 4, and 5.

Some human interest items about this semester's News staff are as follows: the three major positions are filled by people under five feet, five in height, while the business manager is one of the tallest in the history of the staff. Also, the Fenger News claims as staff-members two sets of Fenger's world-famous twins, namely, Hilda and Hilbert Nebelsiek, and Jane and June Mathewson. In addition, the News staff challenges any club or organization to produce a member with eyes as dark as Shirley Snow's, or a laugh like Pearl Lupien's. With this challenge still unanswered, another semester of fun, work, and service to their alma mater, Fenger, is drawn to a close.

HELEN SMITH

QUILL AND SCROLL

The Quill and Scroll National Society for high school journalists this year has a small membership due to its rigid qualifications.

For entrance into this Society the student must be in the upper third of his class, have written two hundred inches of printed copy for the Fenger News, be recommended by the faculty advisor, and have his work approved by a central committee.

Each year the organization sponsored a literary contest. Last year it was purely extemporaneous. The club, too, has an annual tea at which the new members are initiated.

Officers this year are Bruce Mathewson, president; Virginia Brehm, secretary-treasurer; and Mary Stamp, program chairman.

WE ASPIRE TO WRITE

JOURNALISM CLASS. Although the opportunity to be on a newspaper staff presents itself to boys more frequently than girls, the boys seem to be outnumbered in this semester's exceptionally large journalism class of thirty-eight students, including one post graduate.

This class meets during the fourth hour in Room 130 with Miss Mildred Taylor instructing them in editorial, news, feature, and humor writing, the principles of page make-up, and proof reading.

At the close of the semester the outstanding members of this class will gain positions on the Fenger News Staff of next semester.

FENGER NEWS REPRESENTATIVES. "Fenger News today? Let's make our room 100%!" Through the efforts of capable news representatives, the Fenger News is distributed throughout the school during the short Conference period each Thursday of the school semester.

Honor School! That which has been almost within reach many times but always managed to get away has finally decided to come to Fenger. The old proverb, "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again," fits in perfectly with the story of the Fenger unit's struggles to win this coveted honor. The unit did "try, try again" for thirteen years and in the fourteenth their efforts were rewarded. In the annual inspection Fenger was judged one of the best drilled units in the Sixth Corps Area which includes the states of Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin. As a reward for their efforts, each member of the unit was permitted to wear the red star of honor above the R.O.T.C. patch on the sleeve.

This semester began with two hundred and eighty-six cadets, the largest enrollment in the history of Fenger. Of this number there were enrolled ninety recruits. This was also another record.

A commissioned Officers' Club was organized soon after the semester began. The meetings were held weekly under the supervision of Sergeant William P. Robinson. Problems in drill and other military topics were brought up and discussed. Also a weekly test was given to keep the Officers on their toes. All of the officers realized their responsibilities and carried them out in the best way possible. This, together with the willingness of the cadets to learn, has earned the unit a name in the community. Non-Commissioned Officers were not organized as a club but as was the order last year they were instructed by their respective company commanders. Problems and plans discussed at the Officers' Club were given to the N.C.O.'s who in turn gave them to the cadets.

Under the direction of Captain Burnham the band has made wonderful progress. New pieces were learned quickly and added much to the "snappiness" of the whole unit. The band this semester numbered thirty-two hard working musicians. Cadet First Lieutenant Charles Kiefer was the superior officer and drum major.

The first major event of the semester was Fenger's participation in the dedication of the new Outer Drive Bridge. To be a participant in this event was a great honor as the President of the United States was the guest of Chicago for this day. The Fenger unit combined with Hirsch in forming a mass formation.

When Major Ringe, head of the R.O.T.C. in the South Side Schools was transferred, Major Lambert took his place. To introduce the unit to him a Battalion parade was held on October 27th. After the parade, Major Lambert presented the commissions to the newly appointed officers.

In previous years, the ushering platoon has been recruited from the unit itself. No special organization had been formed. This semester permission was granted to organize the ushers into a club. The organizing was accomplished by Cadet First Lieutenant Charles Bult, who was named the Commander of this detail. Special emblems and pins were bought with the dues and from the money taken in at the roller skating party held on December 1st. The cadets took their work seriously as there were always several waiting to become members. The size of the enrollment was limited to the number which could easily handle the seating of the people in the auditorium. By making this organization a club with regular members the job of ushering at programs was handled with the efficiency of expert ushers.

The large enrollment this semester necessitated the organizing of the unit into four companies of six squads each. This formed the Battalion which was led by Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Howard Schmidt. The Battalion Adjutant was Cadet Captain Robert Kummelehne. Chief of Staff was Cadet Major Henry Mohr. The other members of the Staff were Cadet First Lieutenant James Holcombe, Personnel Adjutant; Cadet Second Lieutenant Richard Bergstrom, Aide to the Military Instructor; Cadet Second Lieutenant Joseph Adducci, Range Officer; Cadet Second Lieutenant Kent Cox, Supply Officer; Cadet Staff Sergeant Merrick Aabye, construction officer and Cadet Corporal Charles Chow, in charge of posters and charts. The Officers in Company A. were Cadet Major Mohr and Cadet Lieutenants Adducci and Peterson, Company B., Cadet Captain Kummelehne and Cadet Lieutenants McClurg, Weber, Lucas and Allen. Company C, Cadet Lieutenants Erickson, VanClay, and Johnson. Co. D, Cadet Lieutenants Piddington, Cox and Bult.

The Fenger Cadets are proud of the Fenger Unit of the R.O.T.C. and this is the main reason that this organization is one of the most active in the school. Its ideals of building true and patriotic citizens are being closely followed. This is why the R.O.T.C. is the Pride of the School.

HALL GUARDS—A heavy silence. A soft footfall. "Have you a pass?" Yes, our hall guards are always on the alert.

This body of students, which is under the supervision of individual teachers each period of the day, set out on a campaign to keep our halls clean and orderly during the entire semester. Their endeavors were quite successful as you must have noticed.

COURIER REPRESENTATIVES—A Courier representative must be prompt, responsible, and honorable. His task is hard—that of collecting money, early and late for subscriptions. It is up to him to get his room 100% in the pictures and subscriptions. The Courier is proud of its representatives.

PARENT TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION This organization provides an opportunity for parents and teachers to discuss the students' problems. Outstanding speakers often address these meetings. Its objective is to aid and promote the best interest of the school and community and the theme for 1938-39 program is "Progressive Trends toward Character Education."

Presiding at the meetings are Mrs. Eva Lund, president and Mrs. Palmer Magliccio, Mrs. R. Stewart, and Principal F. W. Schacht, the first, second, and third vice-presidents respectively. Mrs. John Brown is the recording secretary, and Miss Edna Randall is the corresponding secretary. In charge of finances is Mrs. Ray Main; Mrs. J. Vanderbilt is the delegate at district meeting.

LIBRARY AIDS—The thud of piling books together announces that a library aid is about to begin replacing books on shelves so that students coming in during the next period will find them in order. Replacing books, however, is only one of the many duties that this group performs. Their activities include helping prepare books for circulation; taking care of reserve shelves, magazine racks, overdue notices, and slips to study halls.

The library is the heart of any school because it supplies all material for reference work in all departments of the school. Our library is one of the beauty spots of Fenger, and since the students are coming to appreciate its importance, the study tables have become crowded. Recently an overflow room, 217, has been added.

OFFICE ASSISTANTS—Answering telephones, filing, distributing mail, and helping in office routine are the duties of office assistants. These girls receive practical training in office work and routine. "Efficient work lightens many burdens," quotes Miss McCutcheon who places the girls.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Education begins the gentleman, but reading, good company,
and reflection must finish him.

Government and Student Council are synonymous in devoting much accomplishment through well-directed effort. The Student Council of Fenger High School is composed of a student elected from each division room. The mayor's cabinet are members appointed into this group by the newly elected mayor under the guidance of Mr. Kehoe, faculty sponsor, and Principal F. W. Schacht.

The Council was host to a number of visitors from Parker High School who come to discuss student participation in school government. In exchange our delegates attended their school.

THE SOCIAL CALENDAR

A GOOD TIME IN RHYME

October 8, 1937

At last the social season's begun!
The Hi-Y Social was a whirl of fun—
October 8 was the date, in the gym,
And the group danced 'til light grew dim.

October 11, 1937

Twenty-five girls went off in a whirl,
Dresses all perfect; hair smoothed to each curl.
They went to Tilden to dance with the boys,
And had a grand time, judging by the noise!

October 19, 1937

Football's in the air—that game so exciting!
And Courier and News members all stop writing
To play their semi-annual touch-football game,
And this time the Courier Staff fought on to fame.

October 27, 1937

On October 27, a brisk autumn day,
R.O.T.C. boys in their uniforms gay,
Marched briskly past a line of inspection,
The members of which said, "My, what perfection!"

October 29, 1937

Come one, come all! Everybody sing and swing!
At the Glee Club Social—not with Wayne King.
Let me tell you, and it's not just a line,
Our Fenger Social Orchestra is divine!

November 5, 1937

Amid a colorful array of red and green,
The Cheering Section was heard as well as seen,
At their pep assembly before Parker's game;
And talented Fengerites paved their road to fame!

November 5, 1937

A football social before Parker's game
To help our team achieve their aim!
The bids were autographed by members of the team,
And the faces of ticket winners certainly did beam!

November 12, 1937

Hip, hurray! Another social given by the B.A.A.!
There was dancing and singing with everyone gay—
To help cheer our football team on their way
To clash with Austin's team on the next day!

November 19, 1937

Now at last the girls had a chance
To ask their favorite beau to a dance!
The G.A.A. Backward Social was the event,
And many a girl and boy were "gymward" bent.

November 22, 1937

The Chevrolet movies were a huge success
Although I saw them not, I must confess!
However, on November 22 they were the talk of the day.

"Entertaining and educational," the audience did say.

November 25, 1937

Thanksgiving Day—with turkey and all,
But first Pullman Tech and Fenger play ball!
Fenger won the game and then—the big feast
But then comes bicarbonate of soda, at least!

November 28, 1937

Voices blended perfectly in beautiful song,
Commanding the attention of the listening throng
Of friends and relatives who came to hear,
Fenger's Choruses entertain for those with a musical ear.

November 29, 1937

The first of the Lyceum assemblies was enjoyed today,
Where a magician tore the shirt off Clarence Matthey!
Staring eyes and open mouths were a common sight,
But in solving the mystery, they all said, "I'll bite!"

December 1, 1937

The Usher's Club's Roller Skating Party was "tops."
It took quite an effort to avoid awkward flops!
However, the gallant soldiers were there to assist
All the daredevils whose attempts at stunts had missed!

December 3, 1937

At last we celebrate our football team's skill
At the Football Banquet where we all ate our fill!
And then entertainment—followed by dancing
Which was enjoyed by all—everyone was prancing!

December 3, 1937

Girls and boys dancing smoothly by!
For the waltzing prize they're going to try.
At the Fencing Club Social on December third,
Where the strains of music from the gym could be heard.

December 17, 1937

Red and green baskets overflowing with food,
To be sent to some needy family in a Christmas mood!
Here's hoping that happiness will be derived From these boxes of good cheer when they've arrived.

December 23, 1937

Another roller skating party—Ah! What fun!
Everybody falling and sliding one by one.
Nobody cared though—they came up smiling.
They're our Jr. Citizens who don't mind colliding!

January 5, 1938

An impressive affair to say the least
Was the National Honor Assembly, followed by a feast.
For the new and old members who were proud to be seen,
For everyone knows its an honor to "be in"!

January 7, 1938

Corsages and formals—new suits and sleek hair.
It's the Senior Prom, the event of the year!
The beautiful Knickerbocker Hotel was the place;
And to the strains of a smooth orchestra, we kept pace.

January 14, 1938

As a highlight in the events of Fenger High,
The Orchestra Varieties for high honors will vie.
Dancing, singing and comedy enough for all.
This show was a hit; applause resounded in our assembly hall.

January 21, 1938

Happiness ran high at the Senior Class Party!
Everybody appeared looking hale and hearty.
But 'neath it all ran a stream of sadness.
The reason? We're leaving Fenger and its spirit of gladness!

G . A . A .

The members of the Girls' Athletic Association will not soon forget the good times they have had this semester in having accomplished their purpose through the numerous activities of the organization.

The G.A.A. gives girls at Fenger unlimited opportunities in sports. Its various activities aim to develop and cultivate gracefulness, mental alertness, and a growth of sound healthy minds, and bodies. This semester the G.A.A. has once more succeeded in maintaining its standing as one of Fenger's foremost progressive organizations.

The basketball tournament was again held with forty-five divisions rooms competing. Keen rivalry was exhibited in this series of division room contests. This time there was the single elimination with division 5501 being the victor in the Junior and Senior divisions and 1509 the winner of the Freshman and Sophomore.

The first social high light of the season was the Thanksgiving Hop, November 19 for all Junior and Senior G.A.A. members and their escorts. The escorts felt, indeed, very important, for without them the members themselves could not gain admission. Due to the work of Bernice Loughborough, president, Beryl Laird, secretary, and Bodell Christensen, treasurer, the event was a success.

The highest achievement of the G.A.A. this semester was the unique Bazaar which was held in the Boys' and Girls' gymnasiums December 9. These gymnasiums were transformed into scenes of festivity with booths brimming over with contributions from the girls at Fenger. The cheery, good spirit of the bazaar ushered in, perhaps, the season of happiness—the Yuletide.

The following teachers have joined the association: Miss Hildegrade Meisekothen, Miss Ellen De Haan, Miss Edna M. Marlin, Miss Marie McCutcheon, Miss Sarah Thomas, Miss Edna M. Randall, Mrs. Ethel J. Miller, Mrs. Edna Stephens, and Miss Charlotte J. Smith.

LETTER GIRLS

"More Activities"!!! With this in mind the letter girls started this semester with a "splash" by having a swimming party on October 25. The mermaids who attended were treated to refreshments. The girls enjoyed the trek to the bowling alleys for a little muscle stretching accompanied by good clean fun and competition. Florence Vellenga leads in high score with Mildred Borger a close second.

The bazaar sponsored by the G.A.A. December 9 required much of the Letter Girls' time during the festive season; attractive booths were decorated and supervised by the members.

A tea given by Mrs. J. Anderson, the sponsor, at her home December 20, 21, was the half-way mark of the term, and this event was followed by tobogganing and ice-skating party January 10. The last activity on the calendar was a combination farewell and welcome party for both the graduating and the new members.

GRANDSTAND OBSERVATIONS

Under Mr. Charles Palmer's coaching, the Fenger football team enjoyed a very successful season, and, at the time of this writing, are earnestly preparing for their annual Turkey-Day game with the traditional rivals, Pullman Technical High School.

The Titans opened the season against Harper at Gano Field on September 25. They overwhelmed the Red and White team by a 45-0 score, with a wonderful display of power, speed, and deception for such an early date.

Friday night, October 1, the Fenger team and a following of more than 2,000 fans traveled to Chicago Heights where the Red and Green met the widely-heralded Bloom team. Coming back strong after being scored on in five minutes of play, the Titans over powered the Heights team, 27-6.

Morgan Park was our second sectional opponent in a game played at Pullman Tech's Willis Field, October 9. Fenger turned on the power in the second half to win, 31-6, the Empehi team scoring on a pass in the last minutes to play.

Hirsch and Calumet were downed in succession in games played at Shrewbridge Field. Hirsch fell victim to the Titan's might on October 16, by a 32-0 score. October 23 was a bad day for Calumet as the Red and Green won, 20-0.

The Fenger reserves were turned loose on the hapless Bowen team after our first team had scored a touchdown in the first quarter. The last three periods of the game were devoted to an exhibition of Titan reserve strength, for our boys won 31-0. This game was also played on Willis Field, October 30.

Having invoked Mr. Palmer's wrath by mediocre exhibitions in their two preceding performances, the Titans bore down hard in preparation for the Parker game. Both teams were undefeated previous to Saturday, November 6. Before a crowd of more than 5,000, Fenger defeated Parker, 20-7, becoming champions of the South Section.

Fenger met the strong Austin team at Soldier's Field, November 13, before a record semifinal crowd of more than 25,000. Austin had run over all West Section opposition, piling up over 250 points of which approximately two-thirds were scored by Bill De Correvont, captain of the team.

De Correvont scored twice against Fenger, on runs of 9 and 35 yards, both around his own left end, and Skor, Austin quarterback plunged across for 6 points also. Fenger outplayed Austin in first downs and total yardage, and Carlson outgained De Correvont; yet Fenger was unable to score until the last 5 minutes of play when Zilius plunged for 6 points and Johnson went over for the extra point.

During the season's play, Co-Captains Alex Leugo and Ray Brooks showed that it was no mere accident that they received All-Section and All-City honors last year, and appear to be headed for recognition again this year. Roy Carlson was acclaimed by Red Grange to be the best all-around football player in the Chicago high schools.

Fenger's line was highly praised for its work all through the season. Besides Leugo and Brooks, Stankus, Westwater, Neumann, Dennis and Preston did some very fine work not only in blocking for Fenger backs but also in stacking up the attempts of all opposition to go through the line.

Zilius, Westwater, and Preston are the only regulars returning for next season, but they will be aided by several capable members of this year's strong reserve squad, along with several players of the sophomore team of '37.

Last, but far from least, we pay tribute to the men to whom the credit for the teams success belongs, Mr. Palmer and Mr. Knight. Without such fine leadership the results would not have been the same. Mr. Joseph Musial, and Mr. Hoffman of Curtis, deserve credit for their work in training Fenger's freshman-sophomore squad, many of whom you will see in action on the senior squad next year.

We'll see you again next fall when Fenger's team is back of the field fighting their way toward a championship again. Yours truly will keep himself occupied from now 'til then remembering this year's thrills while pulling left-over slivers from the seat of his breeches—

B . A . A .

Under the able sponsorship of Mr. Frank E. Young, the Boys' Athletic Association of Fenger planned its regular fall season of intramural activities.

Division room football and basketball competitions started October 17, 1937. The various divisions began their struggle for football supremacy with great enthusiasm. In the senior division of the competition, 7502 were the victors and 5522 were second. 2502 and 3510 were first and second among the juniors. Competitive basketball got under way a few weeks later.

The B.A.A. is one of the best organizations of the school to which a boy can belong. The club's objective is to have every boy physically fit, and to help him want to play the game straight. The B.A.A. not only sponsors football, basketball, swimming, track, and many other physical activities, but it also aids the boys to know the rules so they can really play correctly.

This semester was begun, as usual, by a meeting of all division representatives for the purpose of electing officers and planning the fall program. At this meeting, held Monday, October 18, 1937 Leon Verkinder was elected President, while Ray Brooks and "rushin" Stankus became Vice-President and Secretary respectively. Roy Carlson was made Sergeant-At-Arms.

The boys, not wishing to limit their activities to merely gymnastic things, are planning a social to be held near the end of the semester.

The list of school activities will not be complete if the B.A.A. does not come near the top. Every able-bodied boy should join, both for his own good and to keep the name of Fenger always ahead.

NO VICTORY WITHOUT LABOR

CROSS-COUNTRY TEAM

"Say, isn't it rather cold?" this was the question asked the members of the cross-country track team as they practised in their light thin gym suits when the thermometer read in the low 40's. Most every day from the starting of term until the middle of November you would see some of the team running around the goal posts back of school many times dodging between footballs and football stars. The two-miles was twelve times around the field, and one day the entire football team ran a few times around with the track team boys. The team also practised a greater part of the time at Palmer Park cinder track which is one-sixth of a mile in length.

Although the co-captains Robert Cross and George Lockwood tried to have a great many inter-school meets only two practise meets resulted. These were held at Ogden Park on October 22, and November 5. The first meet was against Lindblom alone and Fenger had the disadvantage of having only eleven boys against their twenty-eight, and Fenger's boys used track shoes which made it hard to run on the crushed stone and asphalt. Coach Westley Fotch explained this as one of the reasons they were defeated. In the second meet they were opposed by Bowen, Crane, Englewood, Du Sable, and Lindblom; this time they beat Lindblom. In the city finals at Washington Park the team finished eleventh out of fourteen teams in the Championship division. The members of the team are besides the co-captains; Francis Clifford, the fastest man on the team, Robert Galloway, William Fiddelke, Walter Urban, Jack McCafferty, John Burgess, Charles Hack, John Belo, and Albert Ploman.

SWIMMING TEAM

One team in Fenger that can always be counted on to win either Section or City titles is the swimming team.

Coach Wesley W. Fotch has always managed to gather enough speedy material from the student body, and polish it off to swimmers of excellent calibre.

Ten south side schools make up the South Section Swimming League, of which Fenger is a member, and usually champion.

Herb Budrick, fastest 100 yard free style swimmer in the city of Chicago, is captain of the senior team.

Many of last year's junior swimmers have graduated into senior ranks, and they will probably make good.

Meets against Parker, Bowen, Harper, Hirsch, Calumet, Tilden, and other south side schools started after the Thanksgiving holidays, and both teams are well up in the league competition.

A major swimming letter is given to any boy who can fully meet these requirements; Participate in all meets, and strict practice. A total of thirty-five meet points (Five for a first place, three for second, and one for third). Participate in two City meets, one of which is held each semester. He may also get a letter if he places among the first six in any event in the City meet. Minor letters are given out by Mr. Fotch to those who have met most of the requirements.

With the receipts from the sale of tickets to last year's home meets, Mr. Fotch has purchased a number of new bright red trunks, which the Fenger mermen will wear this semester.

FUTURE LINQUISTS, ORATORS, AND WRITERS

FENGER FORUM. "Mythology and Classical Allusions" was used as the theme of the Forum this semester. Under the guidance of Miss Wilfred McPartlin, the Forum has enriched the students' cultural knowledge and background in Latin.

Marguerita (Pearl) Lupien, as Consul, led the club in duty and entertainment. Her assistants were Helena De Young, as Second Consul; Dolorosa Johanna Arquilla, as Praetor; Vincentius Zunica, as Censor; Raymondus Ellis, as Quaestor; and Gloria Magram, the club Aedile or Officer of Games.

THE LITERATI—A retreat for amateur poets is the Literati, under the supervision of Mrs. Ruth Wise. Its main objective is to stimulate an interest in creative writing. The meetings, held every Thursday in 216, are conducted as an informal class with no officers or rituals of any kind.

The club accomplished a great deal because of its small membership. Two books have been published in the past, and again this year copies of the best poems are being kept with the idea that as soon as there are a sufficient number of outstanding quality, a book will be compiled and published.

This organization gives students who are interested in writing, a chance to produce their own masterpieces. Perhaps we have a future poet-laureate in our midst.

EL CLUB Espanol—"La session se abre" are the words of Beatrice Anderson, the president of the Spanish Club, at the beginning of each meeting. The Spanish Club meets every Thursday afternoon in room 212. The co-secretaries are Velda Fleming and Anna Petraitis, who officiate at alternate meetings.

The club has several aims: the translation of Don Quixote, the reading and acting of Spanish plays, and the practice of Spanish conversation. The club has played Spanish games and sung Spanish folk-songs.

At one meeting of the club Mrs. Whitworth, the sponsor, gave an interesting talk on Spain and the Spanish War. Because of her sojourn in Spain, it was of especial interest to the members.

DEBATING CLUB—"Mr. Chairman, Honorable judges, worthy opponents, and those interested in debating," this salutation is heard many times during a meeting of the Debating Club every Monday in room 216.

Besides the weekly short debates among the members with Raymond Ellis in charge as program chairman, the club has many ambitious plans. These plans are as follows: to listen to a college debate at Thornton Jr. College, to defeat Parker in a debate, (the team being composed of Muriel Clark, Pearl Lupien, and the president George Lockwood), to debate with Bloom High, and possibly to have a debate in the assembly with Hirsch High School late in the semester. Patria Bauer is vice-president and Myrl Hendersen serves as secretary.

A LITTLE SONG WILL OUTLIVE ALL SERMONS in the MEMORY

FENTER'S SWINGETTES—Prominent members of the concert band and orchestra have formed, this semester, a novelty all-girl orchestra under the leadership of Shirley Shallcross. Besides contributing to the merriment of G.A.A. socials, they also helped to make the Thanksgiving pep assembly a big success with their rhythmic melodies. Although newly organized, the girls do good work and have met with great approval from the student body of Fenger.

SOCIAL ORCHESTRA—Under the guidance of that melodious saxophone player, Charles Kiefer, the Social Orchestra has been engaged in entertaining everyone at our weekly "swing" social. The orchestra has tried to make a practice of keeping the social music up to the Hit Parade. Helping to accomplish their weekly rhythm program are three old faithfuls: Shirley Shallcross, Howard Schmidt, and Warren Wilner, and the two new members Harry Ose and Roger Sizoo.

PLECTRUM CLUB—Many fine players were added to the Plectrum Club this semester. Not only did this group play for their own pleasure, but they contributed a group of western songs, complete with costumes and yodels, that greatly enhanced the Orchestra Varieties.

The officers, Nellie Rot and Victorial Opulskis, faithfully served as president and secretary respectively. Betty Ver Hook was in charge of the ukulele section and arranged all the music for that instrument. Mr. Neil Trimble, as faculty advisor, aided in arranging the numbers used in the Varieties and often served as "assistant" pianist.

STAMP CLUB—This semester's Stamp Club has twenty-four philatelists with Mr. Claude Smitter acting as club sponsor. Each member is working on a private collection as well as on the exhibits seen in the foyer from time to time.

Doreen Bomben as president, and Donald Smitter and Myrtle Denney holding the positions of vice-president and secretary-treasurer, respectively carry on the business affairs of the organization.

Interesting programs and social events are handled by the chairman, Constance Guyatt, and her assistants.

Principal Frederick Schacht, honorary member, and an interested philatelist, gives valuable advice to the club.

SCIENCE CLUB—Interest ran high in the Science Club's activities this semester as the result of some educational and interesting movies presented by Mr. Emil Bennett, the club's sponsor. However, the members of this club were not satisfied with merely seeing movies—they also visited many large corporations including Swift & Company, and Carnegie Steel Company.

The visiting speakers, who were members of Fenger's Alumni, and former Academy of Science members, chemists, and city engineers, were introduced by President Bruce Matheson. Notes were recorded by Secretary Roger Sizoo, and Joe Propati handled the club's finances.

AVIATION CLUB—"Ready, Contact!" The aviation class and club members have completed a thirty-six foot span primary glider which they expect to fly early next spring. Edward Kozak, an aggressive member of the club, is the appointed technical advisor of the glider project.

The club membership is near the forty mark. Angelo D'Adam is president of the club, with Geraldine Heany as vice-president; Eleanor Austin, treasurer; and Harry Wright as secretary.

Field trips to various airports and airplane factories have been made with Mr. Sykes, the club sponsor.

ASTRONOMY CLUB—"I saw stars!" This would be an ideal theme song for the members of the Astronomy Club because that is just what they see at their evening meetings when the sky is clear and the stars are bright. When the weather forsakes them, they can be found in room 238, the tenth period, discussing astronomical problems, with Edith Cafferty presiding over the meeting and their sponsor, Mr. Munford, assisting them when difficulties arise.

MARCONI BROADCASTING CLUB—For two years RADIO STATION W₉HMW has been broadcasting on short wave under this government license, and can broadcast anywhere at anytime providing the transmitter stays within its band so as not to interfere with commercial messages.

Every Wednesday night at 7:30 P.M., President Richard Hoose calls the meeting to order. Minutes are read by Kenneth Weberg, and the dues are handled by George Zilis. Mr. Wesly Fotch, W₉QFE, a licensed operator, for both wireless and land wires, is the sponsor.

At the beginning of each meeting, members give lectures and talks on electrical communication, and then settle down to a half hour of learning the International Morse Code. Later, they go on the air contacting other schools, amateurs, and former Fengerites.

HAIL! LEISURE HOURS!

ARCHITECTURAL CLUB—"Castles in Spain" come true during the meeting of the Architectural Drawing Club. They construct their "dream homes," just the way they have always planned it.

This semester a new project had been tackled. The members had worked on a diormus, which is a three dimensional perspective model. A diormus of Fenger High School was made of cardboard, water colors, sponges and materials of like ilk were used.

The Club elected no officers and meetings were held every second Friday in room 344 under the sponsorship of Mr. Uda Koerner.

MATH CLUB. FOUND—Mathematical minded students meditating in room 326 every other Wednesday at 2:30. Sponsors, Mrs. Frances Mullen and Mrs. Gertrude Schuessler. The main feature of the Math Club this semester is the "Math Club Star," a small newspaper edited by its members with Pearl Lupien as Editor-in-Chief. This club is the only one that boasts a newspaper.

The club has been very active having an angular treasure hunt, a play, and an exhibit of mathematical instruments made by the members for the P.T.A. Besides holding puzzle sessions, meetings were sometimes given over to solving tricky problems given in scholarship examinations.

Leading the club for the semester were, president, Lois Hansen; vice-president, Alice Streelman; secretary, Hilda Nebelsiek; treasurer, Helen DeYoung.

FENCING CLUB—Grace, poise, and perfect posture can be acquired by all! How? By joining the Fencing Club!

Under the expert direction of Mr. E. F. Young, this club has progressed rapidly, and fifty-two members answer roll-call. It meets once a week for instructions and once a month for business purposes. The president is Eugene Bergner; the vice-president, Harry O'Brien; and the secretary-treasurer is June Schiro.

GIRLS' DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS—Organized just last semester, the Girls' Drum and Bugle Corps, now boasts a membership of twenty-two, under the excellent supervision of Mr. Burnham and Sergeant Robinson.

Led by our drum major Viola Sharkey, the girls are present at all football games. They present a very colorful picture in their red and green uniforms: red culottes, green capes, one red and one green sock.

With the proceeds from the sale of tickets of '37 Amateur Show, cornets, drum pads, and sticks were purchased.

NO VICTORY WITHOUT LABOR

THE YOUNGEST

DRAMA CLUB—"Poor Little Richard" was the feeling expressed in the uproaring riot of a comedy presented this semester by the Drama Club. Diminutive six-foot-three Bill Sternberg as Richard Winslow in the play, "The Youngest", was continually picked on by his older brothers, Mark and Oliver, portrayed respectively by Robert Hillstrom and George Lockwood. Wilfred Hering and Denise Behrens aided by Marian Artin who played the parts of Alan Martin, a lawyer, his wife Augusta and "Muff" Winslow, though somewhat more sympathetically, were like the brothers in the sentiments. Nancy Blake depicted by Myrtle Nelson straightened out the mistreated "Richard" and brought in the love scenes. The easily swayed, sweet Mother Winslow was characterized by Sylvia Neutout and the hard working maid, by Mary Jayne Sears.

Others helping to make the play a success were chief director, Eloise Luedeking; stage manager, Ray Seitsma; business manager, Bernice Dowiat; and their assistants; and also our very able sponsors, Miss Katherine Stevens and Miss Lois A. Conner.

THE BOYS' COOKING CLASS—Sniff! Sniff! It's the boys cooking. The proud supervisors, Miss Lena Crum and Miss Madeline Johnson directed classes of forty to forty-five boys this semester. The boys, costumed in aprons and chef caps, baked cookies and cakes, made soups, and canned jellies and fruits. "Delicious!" exclaimed Mr. Schacht who received a batch of cookies. "The boys certainly know how to bake."

The boys declared they didn't crowd into the cooking rooms with the intention of being bachelors, but to be prepared to cook a nourishing meal on next summer's camping trip.

GIRLS' CHEERING CLUB

THE CHEERING SECTION

"Left, Right, Left, Right," and onto the field marched the cheering section, very colorful in complete uniforms: red and green culottes, capes, hats, and one red and one green sock. A large percentage of these girls have been present at all football games to cheer the players.

"Column Left," brought the girls in front of the Fenger stands to form the school letter, "F". The girls then gave one of their favorite yells, a different one being given at each game. The girls then turned and marched into their former position ready for the next movement. "About face," and marched across the field where they formed the first letter of the opponent's school's name and gave them hearty cheers.

TRI-HI-Y

ALPHA CHAPTER—A formal initiation followed by an informal one began another active term for the Alpha Chapter of the Tri-Hi-Y. The month of November found the girls engaged in a joint session with the Hi-Y, and a Mother's tea. With the festive season came the Christmas party with the settlement girls; the semester closed with a party for the departing seniors.

Under the supervision of Miss Doris Blatchly, club advisor, and Phyllis Rutherford, president, candy was sold at the home-games during the football season. Bodell Christensen, vice-president, had charge of the membership this year while Esther McGaghie, secretary, assumed the responsibility of publicity. Shirley Main, treasurer, handled all the club finances.

BETA CHAPTER—The Beta Chapter of the Tri-Hi-Y, newly formed this semester, consists of fourth-two girls. This new chapter is sponsored by Miss Norma Deane and Miss Ann Youstra of the "Y". Under the leadership of its officers, this club have had a Mother's tea, and a Christmas party for the children of the Morgan Park Home for Dependent Children. Florence Vellenga is president and Martha Novatny is vice-president. The secretarial position is held by Dorothy Sprietsma, and the keeping of financial records is the task of Shirley Aulwurm. The girls closed their first semester successfully with a splash party and dance held at the Y. M. C. A.

HI-Y

Interesting and educational were the events of the Hi-Y this semester. Several of these events were: a halloween party, a discussion with the Tri-Hi-Y, delivery of Christmas baskets, and a trip to the Dunes during Christmas vacation.

These events took place under the leadership of the president, Howard Schmidt, whose assistants were Glenn Lindskog, vice-president, George Lockwood, secretary, and Robert Radkey, treasurer.

Mr. Ter Braak of the Y. M. C. A. and Mr. E. F. Young of Fenger again directed the activities of the club this semester.

GOOD HUMOR IS THE HEALTH OF THE SOUL

NUMBER 2259

FENGER TWINS

No, I'm not a jail bird nor an automobile racer number either but rather straight as a pine, green as a freshie, and deep as a bath tub. I have twelve inverted mailbox slots, and my name set in black letters on a gold plate on my forehead. About half way up my six feet in height and on the left hand side is my hand which is lifted and sometimes shaken many times during the day. A little round thing with a dial and some figures is my heart and many times I become heart-broken. But if you can solve the secret of my heart you may come upon an art gallery of Robert Taylor, Clark Gable, all the heart throbs of movieland, and those all stars from the red and green. All pasted, not tattooed, on my inner chest.

In late September and early February my work is light inasmuch as the "flowers of knowledge" which I protect, do not begin to collect upon my two wings until later. But when these flowers are scattered on my wings between twelve and fifteen are picked and scattered daily. If I wished, I could tell as many secrets as the moon can, because more gabbing is done in front of me than the most loquacious back fence gossipers ever gave out. I could tell more, but there goes the bell and my insides will soon again be torn apart because I am, as you have of course guessed, a Fenger locker.

COURIER

Each year a new Courier has a new staff full of new ideas to be mulled over and fought about and finally put into a form of lasting memories for its readers.

Arranging schedules for senior pictures, selling the Courier to the student body, and procuring advertisements constituted the work of the Business Staff. In soliciting advertising material, members of the staff interviewed about seventy business men with fairly good results. The Courier owes much to the energy and well-directed work of the Business Staff.

Planning, evolving creative ideas, and then trying to make these tangible have kept the Courier artists busy numberless hours. Many a pad of paper has been filled by curious lines and hieroglyphics. Miss Edna Marlin, the Courier Art Sponsor, often found comic and serious motifs intermingled as the idea of the theme grew upon the staff artists. Geno Cappozzo, one member of the art group, was the creator of the cover and the backgrounds.

The murmur of conferences, the clicking of busy typewriters, the faces of the literary staff sitting frowning, trying to catch inspirations lest ideas be forgotten, presented to a casual observer a scene which would convince them that the editorial staff really worked.

The many hours of hidden labor in this book cannot be seen by the casual reader, but between its covers have gone the personality, the ambition, and the devotion of every staff member.

The Courier Staff of January 1938 expresses its sincere appreciation to all who have assisted in the production of this annual. Like the stars in the heavens, one, when compared to the many, does not seem of great importance; but each star, if it were to suddenly change its position in its orbit, would disarrange the entire system; so it is with those members of the faculty who have helped our staff. If any one of them had refused his cooperation, the entire plan of our Courier may have been changed.

We are grateful to you, Mr. Schacht and Mr. Dasher, that sponsors were given us. We very much feared we should become "Sabbatical Orphans." To Miss Mildred Taylor we are indebted for her infinite patience and her kindly advice. It was Miss Edna Marlin who inspired and guided the Courier art class in its interpretation of the theme of this book. We have received invaluable aid in office supplies, proof-reading, revising, and suggestions from Mrs. Wise, Mrs. Wertheim, the Courier class under Miss McCabe, Miss McCutcheon, Miss S. Schmidt, Miss R. McKenna and Mr. Gillis. Mr. Kehoe in his jovial way did not seem to mind our urgent call for immediate help at most inconvenient times, and Mr. U. Koerner generously supplied us with T squares, drawing boards, and other material.

We appreciate the co-operation of the branches; to the teachers who sponsored whole-heartedly and carried through to splendid results the literary contests; to Miss Wilson, and to Miss Gallagher; to Mr. Cook we are especially indebted for his courteous oversight of our many blunders in names. We owe much to Mr. Smitter and Miss Lundquist our co-sponsors. Their willingness and helpfulness has been a constant inspiration. To Fenger, Fenger Faculty, Mr. Schacht, our principal, Miss Lundquist, and Mr. Smitter, our advisers, we say, "Here is our book! We hope it typifies our school, our classes, our activities, and life at Fenger."

PEP ASSEMBLY

An assembly today! A gathering in the auditorium, a chance to laugh and talk, a release from the every day routine, a part time holiday from our studies.

As I enter the assembly hall, the sound of the band swells forward. I feel myself carried away with it; I feel an urge to march to that catching rhythm that fills all of the space in the hall, that song filled with school spirit. I feel myself not as an individual, but as a vital unit in a large body, a group with a spirit unequalled by any other gathering. A large unit, consisting of many, many small units made one by the same aim. The aim to let every one know of the merits of our school.

Then suddenly under the direction of two cheerleaders who have appeared, a loud cheer burst forth with all the vigor of youth. It seems that every young boisterous voice in the school is trying to out do all the others combined.

There is the bell, the assembly is over! Once more we become individuals, but our sense of unity is not wholly lost as we hurry on to class.

FLORENCE FREEL

TO A FLY

I envy that cute little bit of action and independence—the fly. The only reason sinful man “bops” a fly on sight is because of his jealousy. This teeny hair-bug doesn’t care about mom or pop he just leaves the folks and thinks he’s a wanderer.

Flies are not all alike. Some are educated and some are not. Many of our goo-goo-eyed friends are uneducated because they were born and raised in the slums. Over there I had the privilege of making an acquaintance with a fly who had a decided hunger for education. He monopolized all of my classrooms and sometimes I aimed to kill him but my heart wouldn’t allow it.

Hairless Joe (my insect friend) watched his diet very carefully and owned a very beautiful physique. Because of his mountainous biceps Joe became decidedly conceited. One day he charged at one of Fenger’s brutal football stars aiming at the feet first. Strangely enough, Joe became wedged between the shoe and the gunboat, and, despite one last effort, our little hero met the end after suffering excruciating pain. When I learned of his death I hung my head in sorrow, and, as an outlet for my mental sufferings, I deemed it quite appropriate to dedicate this fruitless bit of memory to my little pal-hairless Joe.

THE THRILL OF A SOCIAL HOUR

8:00 A.M. Slicked down hair, conspicuous suits, ultra shined shoes are being conveyed by their wearers to various classrooms. Party dresses, gay strings of beads, pumps likewise are being transported to other groups. What can it indicate? Why, Social Hour! 1:00 P.M. More finery is in evidence. The more timid and self-conscious folk have waited until noon to prepare for the grandest of school events. The early birds, too, have had a chance to redecorate and vie for haberdashery honors.

2:30 P.M. The zero hour is at hand. Girls, at their lockers, nervously primp and powder, rouge and lipstick. Boys, in the washrooms, adjust ties, comb and peck at imaginary spots.

2:40 P.M. A few hardier souls venture into the gym, reluctantly parting with a dime. Awkwardly they stand along the walls attempting poise and non-chalance. Vaguely they stare across the barren floor.

2:45 P.M. Sounds are heard from the orchestra. The clink of coins in the cash box announces new arrivals. Posture worries vanish with the gathering crowd; instead there are shy “pickings” at ties, and hair is touched gingerly. Minds are tortured with one hundred and one colossal matters.

2:50 P.M. Crash! distorted imagination is rudely jerked from its reverie. The orchestra’s hot-cha-cha musicians blare forth in a glorious splendor of brazen syncopation. As the dazed aggregation responds, the players are rewarded. There is movement.

2:55 P.M. Very self-consciously and stiffly some rash Don Juan boldly approaches the girl of his sleepless nights. She appears to be in an impenetrable castle. S’funny he never realized before how shy he was.

2:57 P.M. What! Has the impossible been accomplished? Is she condescending? It’s a miracle! No, she is there—out on the floor with him. Several more pioneers of the age-old pastime join them. The Social Hour is on!

FEET, MOSTLY

Big ones, little ones, fat ones, slim ones, feet of all sizes and shapes rush past me daily. From my position near the bottom of the wall near the foyer (I’m the third brick from the left) I can study the pedal extremities of all the Fenger students.

From about 7:30 until the mischievous (?) ones are released at 3:10 there are feet going past me. Oh—here comes the thundering herd rushing for third hour classes—

That girl shouldn’t have tried to squeeze her size seven foot into a six shoe—From the gingerly way Johnnie walks he must have a corn on his toe—Hmm—bad case of fallen arches—Say Feltman’s shoes certainly are stylish—Wow—from the size of that foot the owner must have been a football player about six feet three inches tall, weighing say two hundred seventy pounds—Now there’s a girl who is going places, she walks with determination—I should think those spiked heels would throw the girls off balance—It must be near tardy bell time from the way these feet are increasing in speed and numbers—Hmm—a police man’s foot—flat as can be—

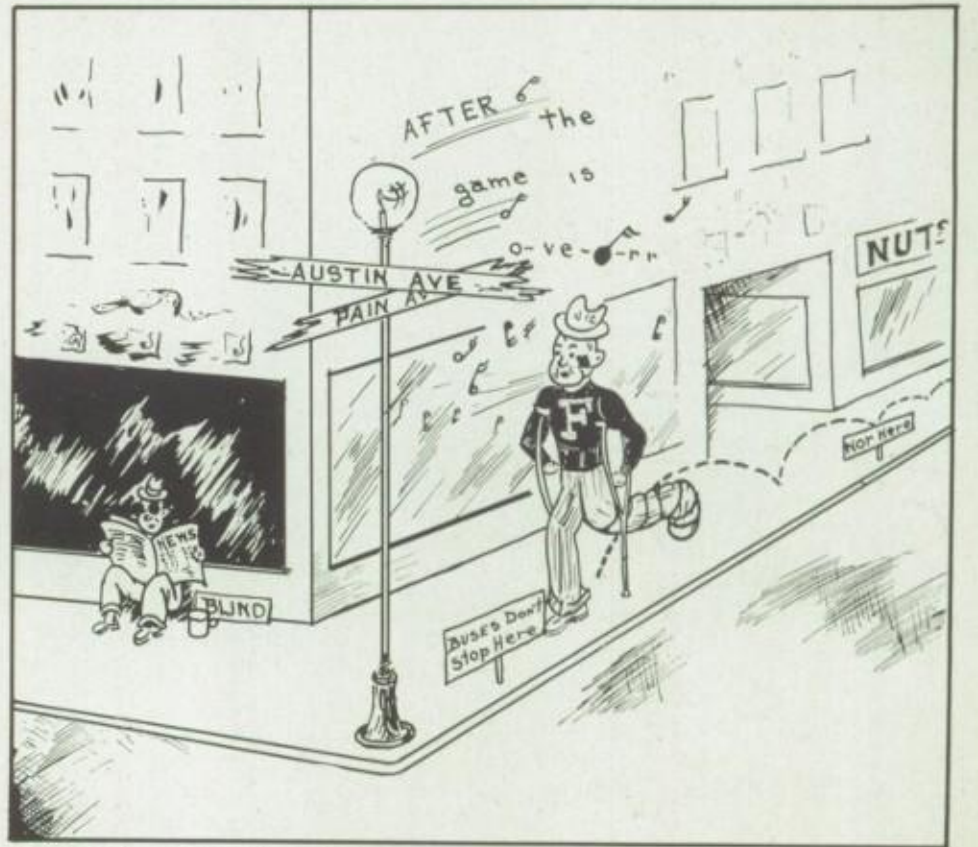

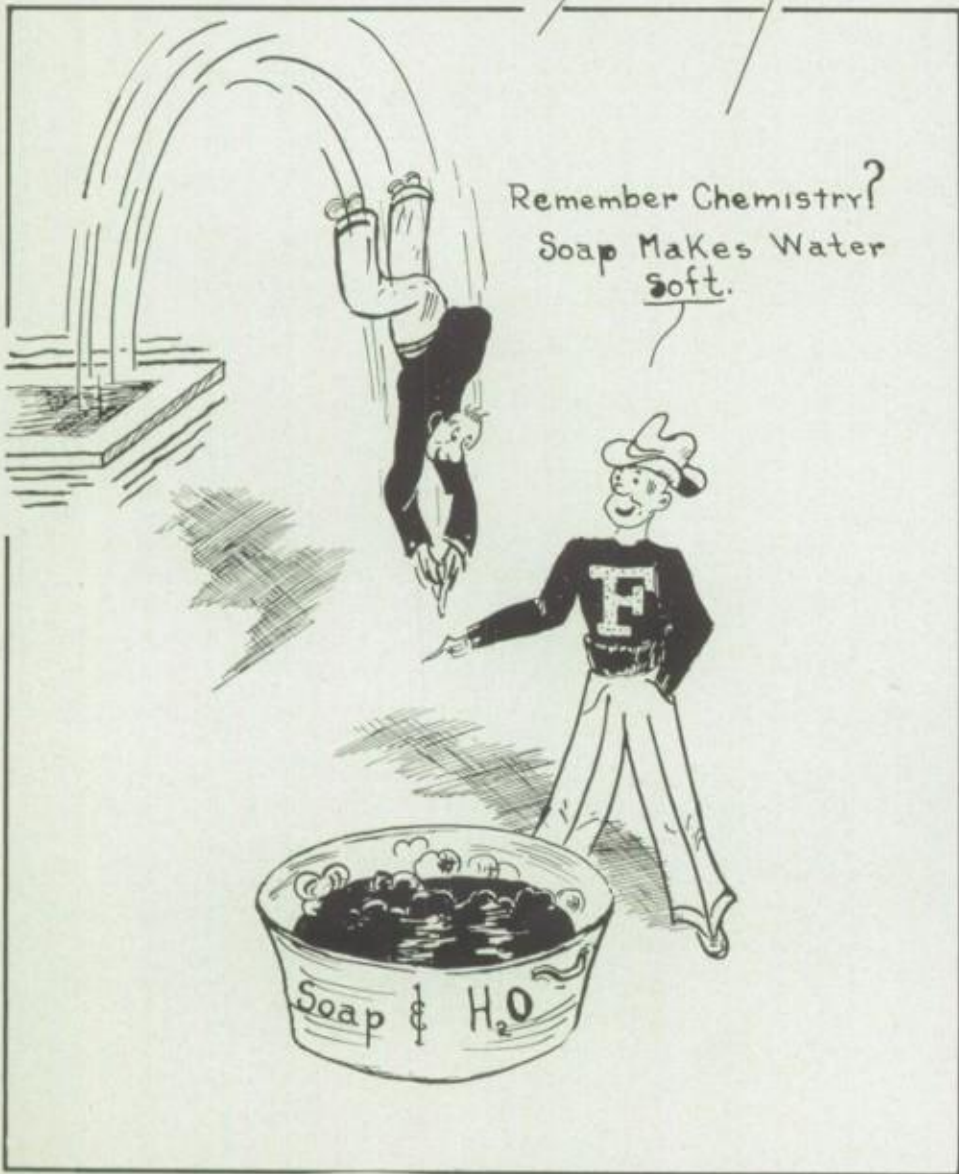

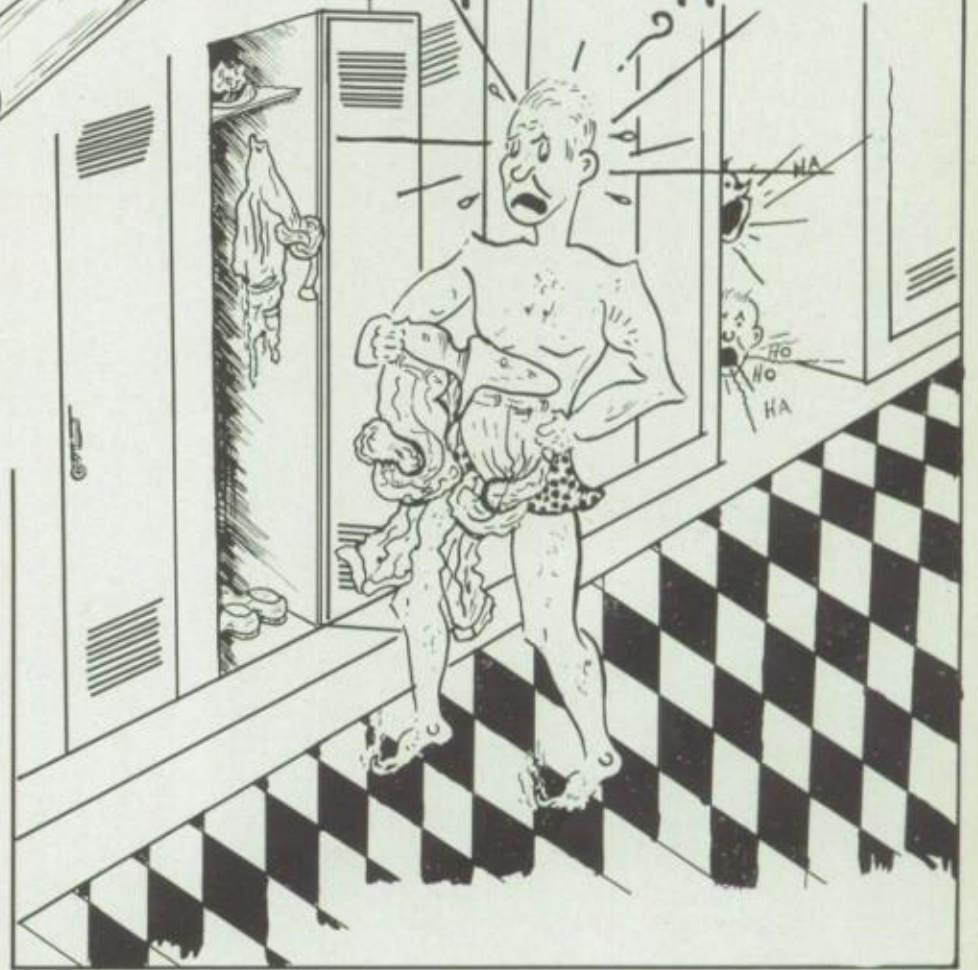

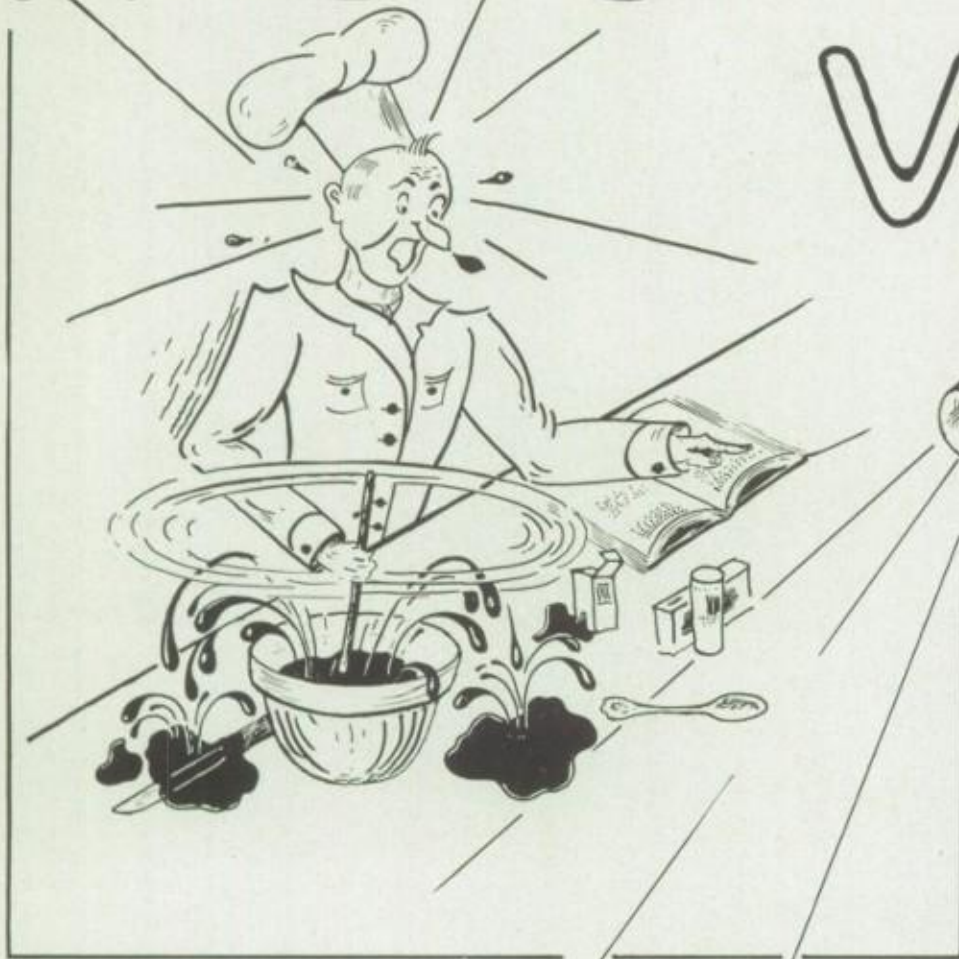

There’s the bell—time marches on.

Now I’ll be able to prepare myself for another onslaught of feet. It’s so nice and peaceful now—Hmm—its almost too quiet.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE

As I go into the boys' locker room tenth period to get my football uniform, boy is there noise! In the room everybody is trying to get his uniform. There's Cappozzo trying to push "Tiny" Miller out of the way, and, as we expected, Cappozzo is at the end of the line now. Those sophomores get in the way too, but everybody is getting their uniform in good order now. As I dress near my locker, I can hear "Babble" Brooks and "Chisel Nose" Fiske arguing about who's going to win the place-kicking contest that afternoon. Boy! who's that hollering? It must be Mr. Knight trying to take out somebody's "Charley horse." As I look around the locker room I see "Scrappy" Preston and "Ten Point" Dennis talking; it must be about girls. There comes Staci with some adhesive tape on, as usual; he uses as much tape himself as the whole team put together. Coach Palmer thinks the tape company should give him a bonus for using so much—Ah! There's Zilius the dark, quiet fullback, whom the girls always find popular.

When we leave the locker room, everything is quiet, but at one of the lockers, there is still one member—Yampolsky late as usual.

Out on the field, we watch Brooks and Fiske place kicks for a few minutes. After a while Coach Knight tells us to run around the field a few times to limber up.

It's time for scrimmage and Coach Knight yells at the first team. He calls Brooks "Tubby" and starts teasing Preston about his girls. As practice wears on, Mr. Knight sees that Norm, "Pegleg" Olsen, is still limping, and tells him to see him after practice. Anybody who has had a lame leg and has seen Knight, knows that he is heartless in trying to make legs better. After a long practice the fellows are just able to walk. After undressing, does a warm shower feel good! Ah! Wow! who turned on the cold water? We're all freezing! After drying off and getting dressed, everybody goes his own way home and football practice is over for the day.

A FASCINATING PASTIME

Many people refer to stamp collecting as "The King of Hobbies, the Hobby of Kings". I think collecting stamps is a very educational and useful hobby. It is possible to absorb oneself for hours looking at a very few varieties of stamps. Great men such as President Roosevelt, Mr. Hoover, Admiral Byrd, Mr. Butler and others are stamp collectors. Anybody, wealthy or poor, may find pleasure in it. Every stamp, cheap or expensive, has its own peculiar story behind it. While gazing at my stamps, I came across one with the picture of the Acropolis. Those ancient Greeks were wonderful sculptors! Many of our modern buildings have been designed from the Greek art. A very few stamps may take you on a trip around the world, and introduce you to many powerful men of their country—men such as Hitler, Stalin, Mussolini, King George VI, and others. I will see strange lands such as India, China, Africa, Greenland, and many others. Modern inventions such as airplanes, bridges, steam liners, and trains will help me on these journeys. Anybody can collect stamps. Besides securing knowledge and culture from it, I have fun and play different games with them. Ellis Parker Butler, a famous author and humorist said, "As a boy I often began collecting stamps, and the fun I get out of stamps now is as great as it was then. Stamp collecting is a form of adventure that we can enjoy without leaving home."

I believe that every boy and girl should be given the opportunity to be a stamp collector.

MARIAN CARUSO

THE WATERFALL

It was the powerful, rushing, and roaring sound that made my heart stand still as I gazed at its wondrous beauty. Yet this exhibit of nature was not only of beauty but of power. Imagine the thousands of white horses that in picturesque thought may be compared. Here is power that can be created into various service for you and you. I wonder if early redmen could ever conceive such a thought. In the days when deer, brown bear, and other animal folk still roamed the woods is the time that grasp my thought. An Indian brave travels alone in his canoe; his body at rest; his mind at peace, when suddenly he arouses himself from his stupor, he finds, through no effort of his own his craft seems to move faster, faster like a leaf in a cyclone—the little craft is in the hands of the swirling, churning waters. The brave now starts to fight, fight for his life. A torturing struggle, but slowly the shore comes closer. Safety is the thought of the young brave as his frenzy of escaping the clutches of the mighty river increases. Safety at last, the Indian stands with bowed head. He had deep respect for this powerful mighty river-god. "Overcome this Spirit?" "Never," cries the Indian. This thought brings me back from my day dream to the present time. "Yes, my friend, perhaps powerful, but not invincible for I think of the mighty but succumbed Niagara.

WALTER DETTMAN

THOUGHTS

"Ashes to ashes, dust to dust," As the pastor voiced these familiar age-old lines that had accompanied the interment of so many bodies, my thoughts were of John Jones, who had been such a good friend to me. To some he was just a good football player. He had made Walter Camp's All American team, the goal of every football player. To others he had been a jolly, cheerful, hard working chap who could and would, if he could, give friends and even strangers a lift when needed. The man in the gray overcoat was John's roommate in boarding school and college. Small spats and impulsive quarrels they had had, but they were the best of friends. To me, it appeared as though he were lost without the friendly smile, the bluff hearty voice that accompanied John in all his work and play. The voice of the pastor had stopped, a pause, silence—the people were leaving. As I turned to breathe a prayer beside the grave, I saw a slight lonely looking figure shrouded in black. Her body was wracked with restrained sobs. It then came to me—1900 and some years ago—another mother had stood before a cross with the same solitary anguish. It could not be another—it must be—it was his mother.

GUS ILIKA

SNOW

Slowly, but surely the snow comes down and Longfellow's words:

"Out of the bosom of the air,

Out of her cloud folds of her garments shaken."

seem very real. Each snow flake does its share to cover all the city. Some flakes perch on chimneys near, other on the naked trees, but always landing somewhere. I watch them fall outside the window. I can see them hit against the window and leave a trail as they slowly melt, rolling downward. I can remember one Christmas. I was watching the snow as I am now. I was waiting for the Christmas tree to be completely decorated. Dad was just putting on the tinsel. Now and then I would break away from my reverie and help him. We all liked to help trim the tree. We still gather around the tree to assist Dad while he trims the Christmas tree. I remember now the snow came down like a large white linen tablecloth with little designs crowded in one large space. I marveled at not being able to see the house across the way. I thought it would never stop snowing. Finally the tree was finished, and we went to bed. The next morning all was white. Just like after confession—everything white and clean, like a new world.

ON PARADE

The steady rhythm of marching feet,
Instruments shining, uniforms neat,
With snare drums rolling, and sharp command,
The signal is given to the band.
The trumpets blaring and piccolo shrill
Pauses, rises higher to a piercing trill;
Snappy salutes as past the stand
Pass the companies led by the band;
Banners are waving against the sky;
People are cheering, both lowly and high;
For isn't it stirring to hear a band play,
And watch the battalion march on its way?

Life is What We Make It

Allow me to express my sincere wishes for a successful future for the students of the Fenger High School, and to offer the suggestion that in building for the future, that you guard well those things in life essential to success, especially your health, for a sound body means a sound mind, and a sound mind will lead eventually to the goal of your ambition.

Practice the Golden Rule, for therein lies the foundation of your success.

Your life lies before you—make the most of it.

EATS

The impossible does happen! Very rarely, perhaps but it does happen. For instance, did you ever hear of anyone losing his lunch? It sounds fantastic but it's so. How do I know? Why, I did it.

Friday I left home at the last possible minute for school with my lunch and several books. I went through all of the known and unknown shortcuts to get to school before the eight o'clock bell. I did get to school on time, but without the lunch with which I had started.

That isn't the saddest part of this tale. It was Friday—the last day of the week—the day everyone is broke—especially me. I had just one nickle; thick or thin, it wouldn't buy a lunch for anyone less than a magician.

What to do! Try to borrow a nickle here and another one there? Collect the dime I loaned Pat? It can't be done—she hasn't enough "to eat on herself."

Myrt doesn't even have four cents; all Connie has is money for football tickets, and she won't (and can't) loan that to me. Gene hasn't any either. One last try, and I'll give up and starve.

Ah! a lifesaver! (not one of that kind you throw a person who is drowning or a piece of candy with a hole in the middle either) Pearl has some money. No change? That's perfectly all right, Pearl. I'll use what I need and give you the change back (so I won't spend that too), and then I'll pay the rest back Monday. Well, after I get my allowance next week anyway.

I did eat—but, oh what a dent in my next week's allowance that lost lunch made!

MORAL: If you are going to lose your lunch, lose it on a Monday; then you can borrow money to eat "off of" much easier.

Look Them All Over!

Then you will be convinced that the Fenger News is excellent value for the money.

Editors Virginia Boehm, Helen Smith and Jack La Fountain have planned a paper to fit the needs of Fenger City each week this semester. Business Manager John Le Noble and his advertising assistants have made it possible for them to carry out their ideas. An enthusiastic staff has done the hours and hours of hard work which a weekly six-page paper entails.

And—a loyal student body has received their efforts with enthusiasm and given hearty support!

Look them all over, but read your Fenger News carefully each week!
